

This comment is in regards to the idea of giving Low Power FM a priority over FM Translators. This would have an enormous negative effect on myself and hundreds of thousands of others. I primarily listen to the radio to hear Air 1, which is a service that often uses FM translators. Air 1 provides me and my family with news, weather, and most importantly music with a significant meaning. Unlike most other programming, Air 1 is safe for my entire family to listen to. This station has played a major role in the development of my character as a person. It is directly responsible for the strength of my faith in God. As a result I am more involved with my church and community. I would not be the only one at loss if our signal is displaced. This broadcast is something that I share in common with so many others here. It has stimulated conversation in schools, churches, work places, and neighborhoods. Air 1 is such a public interest because its' content is a breath of fresh air. Admidst the subject matter of "popular" radio, Air 1 is one of the few programs that provide myself, my family, and my community with a positive clean alternative.
